

Dear Prospective Member:

As a first or second year female engineering student, you are cordially invited to apply to the Rutgers University Women in Engineering Leadership League (RU WELL). If you currently hold, or would like to hold, a position of leadership on-campus, RU WELL will assist you by providing leadership development opportunities.

RU WELL is a leadership development program that provides guidance and training to female leaders within the School of Engineering. Leadership training consists of monthly seminars, participation in a recognized student organization, and internships. Complimenting the leadership training, you will be paired, via e-mentoring, with a woman currently in a leadership position in the corporate or academic sector. As an RU WELL member, you are required to participate in at least 80% of Leadership Seminars, communicate via email with your mentor at least once a month, participate in at least 1 corporate activity a semester, actively pursue an internship or co-op, participate in an engineering student organization (either serve on the executive board or organize/facilitate an event for the organization), and provide continuous feedback

If you are interested, RU WELL membership application is outlined on the back of this sheet. Applications are due on October 8th by noon. Acceptance is based on prior and current leadership experience and a personal statement addressing the questions listed on the application. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at (732) 445-2687 ext. 19 or at ehlaaffey@rci.rutgers.edu.

Sincerely,

Dr. Evelyn Laffey
Assistant Dean, Director of Women in Engineering Programs
